Pittsburgh is one of the hottest destinations in the country because of the Only in Pittsburgh experiences and activities that you can see, do and find only in our city.

As the 2022 VisitPITTSBURGH Official Visitors Guide perfectly demonstrates, spring, summer, fall or winter – it’s always a good time to visit Pittsburgh! From outstanding museum offerings and award-winning restaurants to endless miles of riverfront trails, breathtaking views, unique public art and more, there are plenty of ways to make memories in Pittsburgh.

If you love art, culture and learning, Pittsburgh is a great place to explore. With our wide range of museums and galleries, with interests ranging from history, science, sports and more, there are endless must-do items to add to your itinerary.

Prefer the fresh outdoors? Schedule time to enjoy our Only in Pittsburgh outdoor activities, like kayaking or sailing the famous three rivers. If biking is more your speed, consider traveling to Washington, D.C., along the Great Allegheny Passage, which starts right here in Pittsburgh. Or, simply take in our beautiful views with a walk on our 446 bridges or 700 sets of public steps. The outdoor options are endless in Pittsburgh.

When a craving hits, take advantage of the city’s award-winning food scene. And, make sure to schedule a visit to one of Allegheny County’s more than 40 craft breweries or fantastic distillery options for a memorable sip of our city.

Compliment your Pittsburgh memory with the perfect souvenir, either for yourself or your family and friends back home. Our compact and walkable Downtown neighborhood includes business stores, boutiques and maker markets. Or, venture into our 90 unique neighborhoods for an eclectic mix sure to satisfy your shopping fix.

No trip to Pittsburgh is complete without a stay in one of our fantastic hotels. After enjoying a day’s worth of Only in Pittsburgh activities and experiences, you will need a place to relax and recharge. Whether you’re looking for luxury or family-friendly, historic or modern, or maybe somewhere with a view, Pittsburgh has the right accommodation for you!

Whatever you choose to do, there are endless Only in Pittsburgh opportunities for you to experience and enjoy throughout your stay in our city. And remember – you are welcomed here!

A Fresh Look AT PITTSBURGH

By Robin Rectenwald ◀

The “boomerang effect” is one way to explain why Pittsburgh is a top-rated city to live, work and visit. Whether born and raised, attended college here or visited once or twice, many return to the ‘Burgh.

Gone are the days when Pittsburgh was known for its dark and gloomy facade from the Steel Mills. After experiencing its own renaissance, Pittsburgh is nationally ranked for its museums, sports, colleges and tourist attractions. Recent honors and accolades include:

- ▶ The Discover Blog named The Andy Warhol Museum one of the top-10 coolest museums in the nation.
- ▶ Golf Digest ranked Oakmont Country Club the fifth-best golf course in America’s 100 Greatest Golf Courses list.
- ▶ Esquire named Con Alma one of the best bars in America.
- ▶ Fodor’s Travel declared Pittsburgh one of the Best Craft Beer Cities in the U.S.

Pittsburgh was not immune to the COVID-19 global pandemic, but over the last two years, the small business community has remained resilient. In 2021, the city saw a surge of new businesses open including restaurants, cafes and breweries.

As travel picks up in 2022, here are just a few reasons to consider Pittsburgh for a week-long vacation or weekend trip.

WANT TO DISCOVER MORE?

Scan this code to discover even more reasons to visit Pittsburgh.

How to Get Here

Located in the southwest region of Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh is two-and-a-half hours from Cleveland, four hours from Washington, D.C., and seven hours from New York City, making it an easy road trip in the Mid-Atlantic region.

For those who prefer to fly, Pittsburgh International Airport is ranked one of the best and greenest in the nation. In 2021, the airport became the first in the world to be completely powered by natural gas and solar energy as part of its live microgrid.

How to Get Around

No access to a vehicle? No problem. Pittsburgh is one of America's most walkable cities with many walking tours available, including the Haunted Pittsburgh Ghost Tour and a Whiskey Walking Tour offered by Walk the Burgh Tours. Prefer two wheels? People for Bikes ranked Pittsburgh among the top-20 cities in the U.S. for bicyclists.

As an Uber test site, Pittsburgh has plenty of ride share options available, as well as electric scooters, bike shares and Segway tours. For other popular transportation methods, take a scenic ride on Pittsburgh's 145-year old funiculars – the Duquesne and Monongahela Inclines - or, enjoy a view of Pittsburgh from the water aboard the Gateway Clipper Fleet or Cruisin' Tiki Pittsburgh.

Where to Stay

The best part of visiting a smaller metropolitan is having a plethora of affordable options to stay. While many might be drawn to Downtown, Pittsburgh is made up of 90 neighborhoods, giving visitors 90 personalities to choose from when it comes time to eat, shop and stay. From luxury hotels to comfy bed and breakfasts, Pittsburgh has no shortage of hospitable options. Lawrenceville, Strip District, Shadyside, North Shore and the Northside are usually top destinations.

Where to “Wine and Dine”

From Pittsburgh's most popular attractions to hidden gems around the city, the region's culinary offerings are wide and varied, offering visitors plenty of options for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Some classic Pittsburgh favorites are:

- ▶ Monterey Bay Fish Grotto, Altius or Vue 412 for the best views of Pittsburgh from Mount Washington.
- ▶ Caliente Pizza & Draft House for literally the “Best Pizza in America” – no, seriously, “The Mee-Maw” was named the Best Pizza in America in 2019! Plus, they boast a wide selection of craft beers.
- ▶ Acacia Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh's very own speakeasy in the South Side with the best cocktails.

What's New in 2022

There's always something new happening in the 'Burgh. In 2022, Pittsburgh is eager to welcome Moonshot Museum, Bombs Away, a free-fall slide at Sandcastle Water Park, and The Landing Hotel at Rivers Casino Pittsburgh.

For those who haven't visited in a few years or perhaps visited long ago, consider “boomeranging” back to Pittsburgh. With its big-city attractions and small-town charm, there are plenty of adventures waiting for you! 📍

Monongahela Incline | Dave DiCello

With 90 charming and unique neighborhoods, Pittsburgh offers a variety of choices to shop, dine, hang out and explore.

▶ While born in Bogota, Colombia, Robin Rectenwald is a true Pittsburgher. Like many others, she briefly left the city to attend college and boomeranged back two years later to finish her undergraduate degree at Duquesne University. As a public relations professional, Robin regularly follows local media outlets and blogs to stay up to date on the latest events and new restaurant openings. Robin loves to travel, but she also likes to keep busy when home, which is why Pittsburgh is the perfect place for her to live, work and play.

PITTSBURGH INCLINES: Step-by-Step GUIDE

A trip to Pittsburgh isn't complete without a ride on one (or both) of Pittsburgh's historic inclines! The Duquesne and Monongahela Inclines are operating funiculars for both visitors and residents that offer incredible views of Downtown.

1 Decide Which Incline to Ride First

DUQUESNE INCLINE
duquesneincline.org

The Duquesne Incline has red cars and is visible from Point State Park. Access from the top of Mt. Washington at 1220 Grandview Ave. or from the bottom at 1197 W. Carson St.

MONONGAHELA INCLINE
monongahelaincline.com

The Monongahela Incline has yellow cars and can be seen from the South Shore. Access from the top at 8 Grandview Ave. or the bottom at 115 W. Carson St.

2 Plan your trip

Both inclines are owned by Pittsburgh Port Authority and run 365 days a year, with cars arriving approximately every five minutes.

3 Purchase your tickets

Round-trip rides cost $5, with discounts for children and senior citizens. Tickets can be purchased at the upper or lower stations for both inclines. The Monongahela Incline will accept credit cards, while the Duquesne Incline is exact cash only. The Port Authority ConnectCard is accepted at both.

4 Savor the views

No matter which incline you decide to ride first, both offer breathtaking views from Mt. Washington with great photo ops! Enjoy the views during the day or at night to see the city glow.

SENIOR TRAVEL

IN Pittsburgh

► By Rosemary Palmer

Pittsburgh is a great city to visit, but especially for senior travelers exploring without children. It's a very drivable city if you have a car. Or, you can easily order an Uber or Lyft if you arrived by Amtrak. Best of all, parking is plentiful around your favorite spots.

If you love art and museums, this is your town. The Andy Warhol Museum on the North Shore reflects the Pittsburgh-born artist's life with an eccentric artistic touch. Make sure you catch a glimpse of one of his most famous pieces, Campbell's Soup Cans. You also can view many of his personal items, including a collection of wigs.

Head across town to The Frick Pittsburgh in Point Breeze to enjoy a legacy of art, history and nature. The Car and Carriage Museum, included in The Frick's free admission, is a ride through history. Plan accordingly so you can take your time and enjoy a leisurely stroll through the mansion, the museum and garden areas.

Up for more walking? Make sure you include a visit to the Strip District where you'll find a variety of shopping, including lots of black and gold merchandise, eclectic food and restaurant offerings and gift shops. Be on the lookout for The Strip Mural by artists Carley Parris and Shannon Pultz – it's easily viewed on Penn Ave. For those wishing to savor all the flavors of the Strip District – or a handful of other Pittsburgh neighborhoods – consider booking a walking food tour with 'Burgh Bits & Bites.

Sports fans are in luck in Pittsburgh! The city is home to several professional teams, including the Pittsburgh Steelers, Pittsburgh Pirates and Pittsburgh Penguins, and the locals are fanatical for their favorite sports teams. You can find a large area devoted to the teams at the Western Pennsylvania Sports Museum, located inside the Senator John Heinz History Museum.

The Heinz History Museum pays tribute to more than the local sports teams. Here, you can learn so much about one of Pittsburgh's most famous citizens, Mister Rogers, a national treasure. Find his monogrammed house slippers and one of his beloved red cardigans. The museum also is full of American history following the democracy of the country.

When your legs need a respite from walking, rest assured there are several more relaxing ways to see the city. Book a tour on Molly's Trolleys Pittsburgh. Not only will you visit several neighborhoods and see many of the city's popular sites, but thanks to the fantastic tour guides, you also will learn a bit of regional history. One such nugget learned on a recent trip - ketchup wasn't the first Heinz product produced; bottled horseradish was!

Ride the Duquesne Incline up to the Mount Washington neighborhood for a spectacular view of the city. A quick ride back down will drop you off in the South Side neighborhood.

Pittsburgh is widely known for its three rivers. Tour the city by water aboard the Gateway Clipper Fleet. Sit back and relax on the Three Rivers Sightseeing Cruise, which allows visitors a close view of the Downtown skyline and several of the city's 446 bridges. And, the sunset cruises are a great option for a romantic night out.

Speaking of those bridges, many of them are easily walkable, connecting Downtown to several of Pittsburgh's 90 unique neighborhoods. In fact, the Sixth Street Bridge, commonly known as the Clemente Bridge, directly takes you from Downtown to PNC Park, home of the Pirates.

As on any visit, especially your first time, the food choices in Pittsburgh can't be beat. From the iconic Primanti Bros. sandwich to ethnic specialty foods, many from the Eastern European immigrants who settled in Pittsburgh, options are aplenty in Pittsburgh.

Consider extending your Pittsburgh visit with a daytrip to the Laurel Highlands, where you can visit two of Frank Lloyd Wright's most iconic homes, Fallingwater and Kentuck Knob. Visiting these residences is like stepping back in time, as the décor reflects the decade each house was built. When available, make sure you book a guided tour, as they provide an insider's look at Mr. Wright's thought processes, as well as the homeowners'.

Visitors have their pick of comfortable lodging options in Pittsburgh, including several that are housed in historical buildings, like the Drury Plaza Hotel Pittsburgh Downtown which is a beautiful renovation of the Federal Reserve Bank building. Many pieces remain from the original bank including vault doors estimated to weigh 34 tons each. The property is located Downtown and within easy walking distance of many attractions, restaurants and Union Station.

The Omni William Penn Hotel also makes for a lovely stay. The iconic hotel is home to Lawrence Welk's original bubble machine. Plus, it's also where Bob Hope proposed to his wife, Delores.

Pittsburgh is a walkable city that offers visitors a chance to see spectacular sights, gain incredible knowledge at spectacular museums and attractions and indulge in tasty treats at their own pace. Make sure a visit to the City of Bridges is on your travel list soon! 🗺️

EMBRACE ALL Four Seasons IN PITTSBURGH

Enjoy all four seasons in Pittsburgh, where there's something special in store for you in the spring, summer, fall and winter. We've rounded up a few highlights of each season to help you plan your perfect getaway to Pittsburgh.

SPRING

HOW TO PACK:

Light Jacket

Long Pants

Rain Boots

Spring in Pittsburgh aligns with the old saying, “in like a lion and out like a lamb.” The season opens with winter weather. Then, spring showers roll in, and the city is in full, beautiful bloom.

On the cool or rainy days, explore the city’s many indoor attractions. Plan a visit to The Andy Warhol Museum and experience the largest single artist museum in North America. Visit two museums in one and spend an entire day - and then some! - at the Carnegie Museums of Art and Natural History. Enjoy paintings, sculptures and architecture in the first and then dinosaurs, gems and jewels in the second. With hands-on activities for kids, it’s a fantastic experience for the whole family.

When the weather starts to break, be sure to get outdoors. From magnificent cherry blossoms on the North Shore to wildflowers atop Mt. Washington, you’ll find beautiful spring colors blossoming throughout the entire city. For even more floral fun, plan a visit to Phipps Conservatory and Botanical Gardens – a lush oasis in the middle of Pittsburgh’s Oakland neighborhood.

And, of course, make plans to catch a Pittsburgh Pirates game at PNC Park – consistently named one of the best ballparks in America.

SUMMER

HOW TO PACK:

Shorts

Tank Top

Flip Flops

Dave DiCello

Summer in Pittsburgh is all about the outdoors. From enjoying public festivals and live music to cruising the river and riverfront trails, Pittsburgh shines in the summer.

Spend a day at Kennywood and enjoy the many thrills and turns at the park selected as the National Amusement Park Historical Association's Favorite Traditional Amusement Park.

On a hot summer day, be sure to make a visit to Sandcastle Waterpark, home to 15 exciting water slide attractions, the Mon-Tsunami Wave Pool, Lazy River and a boardwalk full of tasty treats. Don't forget your sunglasses and sunscreen!

FALL

HOW TO PACK:

Flannel

Jeans

Sneakers

There just aren't words to describe the beauty of fall in Pittsburgh. The season begins with summer temperatures cooling down, then the picturesque fall foliage slowly spreads throughout the rolling hills that make up the city's landscape.

Take a ride on the Duquesne Incline for breathtaking panoramic views of the city. Hop on a bike and ride the 24+ miles of riverfront trails and beyond – the Great Allegheny Passage is a must in the fall for biking enthusiasts. Or, book a walking tour with 'Burgh, Bits & Bites Food Tour or Walk the Burgh Tours to discover more reasons why Pittsburgh is so special.

Plan a visit before Halloween and explore the spookier side of Pittsburgh with haunted attractions like ScareHouse, Zombies of the Corn and Hundred Acres Manor. Families can partake in the Halloween fun, too, with ZooBoo at Pittsburgh Zoo & PPG Aquarium.

Fall also is a fantastic time of year for sports fans. Join Steelers Nation at Heinz Field for a one-of-a-kind experience cheering on the Pittsburgh Steelers.

From fall festivals to food festivals, Three Rivers Beer Week, world-class theater experiences and more, visitors are sure to find an entertainment option that fits their interest.

Get the Most OUT OF PITTSBURGH'S VIBRANT CRAFT BEER SCENE

► By Mike Tysarczyk

It wasn't all that long ago when Pittsburgh was home to more Super Bowl trophies than craft breweries. Much has changed over the last 15 years, though. Now, more than 40 breweries dot Allegheny County's unique landscape, churning out lots of great beer from a wide variety of visit-worthy locations.

The array of options will serve those who want to schedule a beer-focused vacation, pair up a brewery visit with a concert, game or show, or stop for a quick pint before heading home from a business trip.

Trail Time

To help navigate the dozens of breweries embedded within Pittsburgh's distinctive terrain of hills and valleys dissected by three rivers, visitors can check out pittsburghbreweries.com. This website - a product of the Pittsburgh Brewers Guild - features helpful information on almost all Allegheny County breweries. You can find out which ones are bike friendly, kid friendly or dog friendly, and search for those that have food trucks or live music. It's all there.

! WANT TO DISCOVER MORE?

Scan this code to learn more about Pittsburgh's craft beer scene.

The site also lays out seven premade trails that will help make your beer ventures as easy and efficient as possible. The North Shore Trail, for example, lays out a track for a half dozen breweries - many within walking distance of each other - across a few tight-knit Northside neighborhoods. Just up the road, The Allegheny River Trail includes six breweries that sit within six miles of each other in communities on or near the north bank of the river just upstream from Downtown Pittsburgh.

Cross the Allegheny River again and pick up The City Trail, which features seven breweries that will take you through the Strip District, Lawrenceville, Bloomfield and Garfield, neighborhoods with plenty of food, fashion and flair. The East Pittsburgh Trail combines a few breweries within the east end of the city's limits and four others located in the nearby Verona, Blawnox and Springdale municipalities.

Venture just south of the city and connect with the South Hills and Mon River trails, which offer a combined 10 breweries to visit. Staying near the airport or west of the city? The Ohio River Trail provides a unique route of breweries to explore. Two breweries line the north bank of the Ohio River, while three others are positioned along or nearby the south bank.

Rather do your own thing? No problem. Use the site to create a self-made trail of Pittsburgh breweries and pull up the easiest route from one stop to the next.

Something Old, Something New

Though each of Allegheny County's breweries continues to evolve and bring new beers and vibrancy to the city, keep an eye out for some brewery news of note in 2022.

Dancing Gnome recently opened a new production brewery and taproom just down the block from its original space in Sharpsburg. Try the flagship Lustra while listening to the sounds of passing trains and river barges. Nearby, Grist House Craft Brewery is well on its way to opening another taproom at its original Millvale location, which is already widely known as a great outdoor hang.

Verona's Inner Groove Brewing plans to open a taproom in Allentown, a community not too far from Mount Washington's panoramic views. A new entrant - Golden Age Beer Co. - opened its lager-focused brewery in late 2021. Head to historic Homestead for those offerings.

Looking for some award-winning beers in the 'Burgh? Auroch's Brewing Co. in Emsworth, home to some of the country's best gluten free beers, earned a gold medal at the 2020 Great American Beer Festival for its Hazy IPA (Gluten-Free Beer category).

Cinderlands Beer Co. is another award winner, earning the gold medal for Brett beers at the 2021 Great American Beer Fest. The brewery now has three locations in and around the city.

Insurrection Aleworks in Heidelberg has a newly expanded brewhouse and an excellent menu of made-from-scratch sandwiches, charcuterie and pizza.

Finally, what's old is new again in Pittsburgh in 2022. Pittsburgh Brewing Co., the maker of Iron City, the region's most famed lager, plans to open a sparkling new brewery along the Allegheny River in East Deer Township this year. Pittsburghers look forward to welcoming Pittsburgh Brewing back home (after a decade of contract brewing) where it will join more than 40 other breweries intent on making Pittsburgh the place to visit for beer. ▶

▶ Mike Tysarczyk is executive director of the Pittsburgh Brewers Guild, a group of more than 40 breweries that call Allegheny County home. In addition to his role with the PBG, Mike works at Dancing Gnome Brewery in Sharpsburg. A Pittsburgh native, Mike graduated from the University of Pittsburgh and worked at PNC and Citizens for 23 years before trading banking for beer.

PITTSBURGH HIDDEN Gems

► By Adam Soorma

When I think about folks visiting Pittsburgh, my mind wanders toward experiences with some really unique takeaways.

Maybe these visitors have already ridden the Duquesne Incline. Perhaps they've already stood at Point State Park and taken a stroll through the Carnegie Museums. Maybe they ate a Primanti Bros. sandwich and even paired it with an Iron City Lager. Heck, maybe they've even had their picture taken at Randyland.

As we peel back the layers of Pittsburgh, we reveal shrouded corners of our neighborhoods; we stumble upon hidden gems that shine like diamonds in the rough. Although this is by no means a comprehensive list, I took a stab at traversing our unconventional terroir to showcase some of my favorite Pittsburgh Hidden Gems. Enjoy.

Food

► Grandma B's, Hill District

Grandma B's is a no-nonsense, straightforward breakfast diner in the heart of the Hill District - a Black-owned business in a Black neighborhood with an incredible vibe. Be sure to ask for Dorian (the owner) and let him share a story or two about his cafe.

► The Thyme Machine, Bloomfield

If you're a fan of breakfast sandwiches, head to The Thyme Machine food cart. This seasonal pop-up is parked in front of Bitter Ends Food (8 a.m. - noon) every Wednesday thru Friday on Liberty Ave.

► Casa Brasil, Highland Park

For folks new to Brazilian cuisine, Casa Brasil is an exceptional place to start your gastronomic adventures. Beneath the low-key, intimate dining room is a beautiful event space.

► Fet-Fisk Royal Market, Shaler

What started as a Nordic-themed dinner pop-up series (announced sporadically via Instagram) has blossomed into a full-blown market located in Shaler. Expect delicious smoked and pickled fish, sausages, charcuterie and other Swedish, sea fare-forward offerings.

► Monterey Pub, Mexican War Streets, Northside

After a brief closure during the COVID-19 pandemic, Monterey Pub has reopened under the guidance of a core team that spawned out of Federal Galley, also in the Northside. Hearty Irish eats tucked neatly amongst the rowhouses of the Mexican War Streets.

► Umami, Lawrenceville

With a focus on Izakaya (Japanese snacks/street food and drinks), the Umami vibe is unlike any other in Pittsburgh. Go for a late dinner and take in the lighting, music and service - everything flows effortlessly through the space, which is located directly above Round Corner Cantina.

► Carson Street Deli & Craft Beer Bar, South Side

Decadent sandwiches and a thoughtful focus on local, craft beer make Carson Street Deli & Craft Beer Bar a must-stop for folks meandering through the South Side.

► Lucy's Banh Mi, Strip District

A seasonal pop-up food cart located outside Bar Marco in the Strip District, Lucy herself spends the warmer months in Pittsburgh before returning to her native Vietnam during the winter months. Her cash-only pop-up has no menu - she makes incredible banh mi (pork or chicken), and you enjoy it right there on the street. No questions asked.

Beverage

► The Goldmark / The Confidant, Lawrenceville

For folks who enjoy live DJ performances, The Goldmark (and its sister speakeasy, The Confidant) is one of the best places to enjoy a drink and dance in town. DJ owned and operated (no requests).

► Spring Hill Brewing, Spring Hill, Northside

Up above the Downtown skyline, you can enjoy a farmhouse ale or saison at Spring Hill Brewing. Head brewer Greg Kamerdze quite literally marches to his own beat way up on the hill. His building - the Workingmen's Beneficial Union (which is supposedly haunted) - is a historic German Social Hall built around 1880.

► 4121 Main, Bloomfield

Half coffee shop, half floral and plant shop - 4121 Main is a charming nook with elevated espresso drinks and a lovely selection of plants. During summer, try the Sunshine Express - a shot of espresso cut with Sprite and served on ice.

► Goodlander Cocktail Brewery, Larimer

A new-to-Pittsburgh concept, the Goodlander Cocktail Brewery carefully pre-batches tasty cocktails into kegs for a whole new take on ready-to-consume mixed drinks. Up to this point, all cocktail offerings have been for carryout (off-site consumption).

► Kaibur Coffee & Cafe, Polish Hill

A quirky, charming gem of a cafe found in Polish Hill - be sure to go hungry and try the vegetarian-friendly menu!

► Strange Roots Experimental Ales, Millvale (and Gibsonia)

Pittsburgh's endless thirst for new breweries means folks have PLENTY of options for beer. Visitors who enjoy sour ales should plan to stop at Strange Roots - our city's premier brewery offering wild ales and time-stamped 'spontaneous fermentation' beers. Things you taste in either Strange Roots taproom are unique to the local terroir and would be impossible to recreate elsewhere.

► Blue Dust, Homestead

For the bloody mary fans, THIS is your spot. Easily the most thoughtful selection of bloodies in town with infused spirits, talented bartenders and a stellar selection of craft beer. Blue Dust is a great place to catch a hockey game with the charming interruptions of a VERY active railroad line located directly behind the bar.

► The Allegheny Wine Mixer, Upper Lawrenceville

Quite literally the perfect spot for a date, AWM does everything right. Top-notch service, great hours of operation, an incredible selection of wines, cocktails and beers AND a handful of small bites. The intimate lighting, decor and music elevate the AWM experience to a whole new level.

See & Do

► Clement Freeway, Bloomfield

Pittsburgh's free and legal graffiti wall is located on Clement Way, in an alley between Liberty Beer and Trace Brewing. This constantly revolving art installation makes for a perfect backdrop to snag a photo or hang out and watch graffiti artists express themselves.

► Concrete Beach, Strip District

Of all the hidden gems included here, this one is truly weather and light dependent. Throw on some comfy sneakers and head to the intersection of 35th and Smallman St. (Strip District) and walk past Restaurant Depot (on 35th St.) until the road ends. Continue walking straight and bear to the left, walk under the railroad trestle and carefully traverse the narrow, elevated platform until you are directly above the Allegheny River on a circular patch of concrete. Watch boats go by, enjoy views of both the 31st St. Bridge and the 40th St. Bridge and take in the breeze.

► Observatory Hill, Perry North

For the avid cyclist or runner, the Observatory Hill loop is a beautiful, low vehicle traffic path that bobs and weaves through gorgeous tree-lined trails. The very top of the hill includes Allegheny Observatory. If you're cool with lots of elevation change, Observatory Hill is a challenging, fun gem of a park right here in the city.

►► Allegheny Cemetery, Lawrenceville and Stanton Heights

• A hidden gem that's really not very hidden at all, the Allegheny Cemetery walking paths offer a peaceful respite from the congestion and noise between Lawrenceville and Penn Ave. A lovely ecosystem within the city that automatically transports your mind and mood to a different place. Bonus points if you see all the deer! 🌲

• ► *Aadam Soorma is the head of marketing and guest experience at Trace Brewing in Bloomfield. He guides the brewery's day-to-day digital strategy, including content distribution and brand expression across all web and social channels. # THE EVOLUTION OF Pittsburgh Pride

► By Aubrey & Danielle

Not long ago, many defined Pittsburgh by its grey skies and steel industry.

But, the new Pittsburgh is a kaleidoscope of colors. There are the golden steel arches of the 446 bridges that welcome visitors each day. A vibrant tapestry of color, the steel city shines when the sun glimmers off the three blue rivers and their clean shores which are dotted with bike trails that weave through bright, green parks. Speaking of parks, The Color Park certainly stands out in our colorful city – a literal cement beach slathered in energetic hues of paint along Three Rivers Heritage Trail.

Color follows you everywhere in Pittsburgh!

The metamorphosis from monochromatic greys to every hue in the rainbow also is happening in another community within Pittsburgh – the LGBTQIA+ community. We're fighting for a long overdue change, and the community is more alive than ever. Visitors will soon learn whether you're an ally or part of the LGBTQIA+ community, you belong here in Pittsburgh.

Visitors looking to support and learn more about Pittsburgh's queer community should consider adding these gems to their next Pittsburgh itineraries:

Community & Outreach

► SisTers PGH

The first Pittsburgh Pride Week was in 1973. In 2022, SisTers PGH, which aims to uplift and protect Black Trans lives, will host People's Pride presents Swissvale Pride on June 5 in Swissvale.

► True T PGH

True T PGH serves as a community platform for LGBTQ resource sharing, queer arts, activism and entertainment. This nonprofit hosts events like Vogue 101 Workshops and Queer & Femme Self-Defense Days. Follow True T PGH on Facebook for updated scheduling information.

► OUTrageous Bingo

This wild and spicy rendition of the game you know and love happens monthly at Rodef Shalom in Oakland and raises funds for the Shepherd Wellness Community and the PGH Equality Center.

Fitness

► 412Step

412Step hosts Waltz, 2-Stepping and line dancing every Wednesday night for visitors 21 and older. Founded in the LGBTQ+ community, this group welcomes all – check them out on Instagram for the schedule: @412step.

► Embodied Spirit

This queer, female-owned studio in Wilkesburg focuses on integrated bodywork from deep tissue massage to hypnotherapy and reiki with a strong belief in body neutrality and acceptance.

► Kindred Cycles

Thinking about gearing up to ride the GAP Trail from Pittsburgh to Washington, D.C.? Or, maybe you need to tune up that old beach cruiser? If so, look no further than centrally located, queer and female-owned Kindred Cycles, a full-service bicycle shop born out of love for bicycles and the people who ride them.

► Ascend Climbing Gym

Home of the Queer Scouts, Ascend Climbing Gym is an LGBTQ climbing club with the goal of creating connection and a safer and more inclusive outdoor community. Check out ascendclimbing.com/community for weekly meetups.

Food & Drink

► 5801

With a monthly drag brunch and an expansive outdoor patio space, 5801 is a popular go-to in Shadyside for a competitive game of darts over a beer.

► Trace Brewing

Serving up a commitment to diversity in the beer industry, this brewery in Bloomfield offers a vocational program strongly encouraging women, people of color and LGBTQ people to apply. Trace is home to monthly events like drag brunch and bingo along with Crush Happy Hour, a queer event for women.

► Brewer's Hotel & Bar

The oldest standing gay bar in Pittsburgh, Brewer's Hotel & Bar previously provided housing for AIDS patients upstairs when no one else would take them in. Today, it welcomes all and hosts regular karaoke and drag shows.

► Onion Maiden

With gender-neutral restrooms and a friendly staff fueled by punk rock and a passion for vegan eats, all are sure to feel welcome in this Allentown gem with a Peanut Butter Wolf Tart that will make you want to turn vegan.

► Aubrey & Danielle are world travelers, mountain climbers, mediocre mountain bikers, backpackers, actors and social justice activists. They have a passion for visual storytelling through their film company, Early Dawn Productions. Follow them at @earlydawntravels and @earlydawnproductions.

► BB & Bur Pastry Kitchen and Bakery

Husbands Ben and Will turned their passion into a business, creating custom celebration and wedding cakes, cookies and a long list of pastries in Wilkesburg. Check out their Instagram page for the latest masterpieces: @bbandbur.

► The Black Cat Market

Grab a beverage and lounge in the cat room with nearly a dozen adoptable cats. This LGBTQ-owned space in Lawrenceville offers patrons a place to work, relax and even do yoga with fuzzy friends.

Art & Shopping

► The Andy Warhol Museum

Locals can't really talk about Pittsburgh art without mentioning gay icon and artist, Andy Warhol. Find this seven-story space, the largest comprehensive single-artist museum in North America, on the North Shore.

► Mattress Factory

Part of the Northside Cultural Corridor, this immersive museum will stimulate all the senses. The surreal and glamorous exhibit by trans artist Greer Lankton challenges the norms of gender and sexuality.

► Randyland

Randy Gilson and his partner, Mac, bought a few rundown buildings in the Northside on a credit card decades ago and have since transformed them into a whimsical dream of color. Visitors find joy in simply immersing themselves in the color and magic.

► Maude's Paperwing Gallery

Looking for something to take home from your trip to Pittsburgh? Look no further than Maude's, a Pittsburgh-based, queer/woman-owned, metaphysical and LGBTQIA+ gift shop in Millvale with fun gifts and witchy vibes. The perfect shop to feed your sticker-collecting addiction. Maude's also hosts monthly book clubs.

Lodging

► Kimpton Hotel Monaco Pittsburgh

The Travel Advocacy Group (TAG) supports this LGBTQ+ welcoming Downtown hotel. Adorned with a rich palette of vibrant colors and textures, every inch of this hotel is made for an Instagram-worthy photo. Sip strawberry- and pineapple-decorated cocktails at the rooftop Biergarten. 🍹

PITTSBURGH WITH A MIX OF ## Culture & Flavor

► By Ashley Johnson

Historically, Pittsburgh has always contributed to the fostering of Black cultural excellence. From being the inspiration for the works of August Wilson and the home of the National Opera House, the first prominent African American opera company in the country, to hosting well-known entertainment that included Duke Ellington, Ella Fitzgerald, Louis Armstrong, Miles Davis and so many more at the Granada Theater and Crawford Grill. Plus, one cannot forget Pittsburgh's beloved Negro League teams, the Homestead Grays and the Pittsburgh Crawfords.

Today, that tradition continues through the city's many cultural gems. For visitors looking to immerse themselves in Pittsburgh's Black travel experience, here are just a few of the many sites that the city has to offer.

WANT TO DISCOVER MORE?

Scan this code to read more about Pittsburgh's Black community.

To many in the Black community, art, no matter the form, has always been a way for individuals to express themselves, inspire others, stimulate thoughts and emotions and confront social issues. Simply put, art is a window to a person's soul. Visitors looking to get their "art on" must put BLAQK House Collections, located Downtown, and MOKA Art Gallery & House of Culture, only minutes away, in the Hill District, at the top of their lists. These galleries exhibit art of all kinds - paintings, sculpture, carvings and more - from local artists. Additionally, those looking to take in a visual art show through a live performance must visit the August Wilson African American Cultural Center, located in the heart of Pittsburgh's Cultural District. The experience, whether it's through dance, song, spoken word, etc., mixed with the beautiful architecture of the façade, is sure to be an exhilarating one.

While the Crawford Grill, known as the epicenter of Jazz music in Pittsburgh, is no longer around, Con Alma, located in Shadyside and Downtown, along with MCG Jazz in Manchester, offer toe-tapping experiences for Jazz-enthusiasts.

For sports fans looking to experience everything that is 'The Great One,' the late Roberto Clemente, a right fielder for the Pittsburgh Pirates who made an impact on and off the field, a trip to Lawrenceville's The Clemente Museum for a guided tour is a must. From the displays of thousands of Clemente memorabilia to the captivating stories of Clemente and how the collection was acquired, this one-of-a-kind experience will leave visitors in awe. Plus, the building's many fascinating connections to Clemente will give visitors chills. For instance, the building - which currently houses the museum, a photography studio and Engine House 25 Wines - was once a fire station. According to the museum's curator and executive director, the story is that the firefighters marched out

► *A lover of culture, travel and new experiences, Ashley Johnson is a resident of the Greater Pittsburgh area. of the dilapidated firehouse (so that they could start 1973 in their new location) on the evening of Dec. 31, 1972, around the same time that Clemente's plane had crashed.

While some express themselves through art, dance or song, some do so by cooking. Food has always been a part of Black culture - whether in the church, after a service or program, or at home as part of a celebration. When it comes to good food, Pittsburgh has no shortage of top-notch eateries. Plus, taking in all that the city has to offer is sure to make any visitor hungry.

No trip to Pittsburgh is complete without visiting some of Pittsburgh's best "soulful" restaurants and bakeries for mouthwatering treats. There's Carmi Soul Food, in the South Side, for shrimp and grits, catfish or smothered chicken; Wings & A Prayer Soul Food Restaurant, in Shadyside, for prayer wings, gospel dogs, Jonah's fresh fish and sanctified sides; Munhall's Hilda's Soul Food Kitchen for smothered pork chops, meatloaf or ribs; and Ms. Jean's Southern Cuisine, in Wilkensburg, just to name a few. And one must leave room for a visit to CobblerWorld, Downtown, for pineapple upside-down cake, peach cobbler, sweet potato pie and so much more; it's definitely a treat for the eyes and stomach.

Lastly, if visitors are looking for hotels not too far from all this action, the Hotel Indigo East Liberty, with its elegant décor and unique themes, which varies from room-to-room, is a great choice. It's minutes from all the action and a great space for guests to relax and rest while enjoying the city. 📍

PITTSBURGH: A MODERN

Innovation Factory

► By Jonathan Kersting

From the moment visitors arrive in Pittsburgh, they are immediately immersed in the technology and innovation that has become the backbone of the city and surrounding region.

Pittsburgh International Airport is home to XBridge – an innovation center to nurture the evolution of aviation’s many challenges – and the adjoining Neighborhood 91 additive manufacturing ecosystem – the first development in the world to both condense and connect all components of the AM/3D Printing supply chain into one powerful production ecosystem.

Driving from the tech-forward airport toward the city on the I-376 corridor, a keen eye will see signs and bright logos marking the headquarters and research and development facilities for the likes of Covestro, Calgon Carbon and LANXESS, marking an international presence driving the future of advanced materials, chemistry and environmental sciences.

Emerging from the Fort Pitt Tunnel reveals one of the best views of the city and the technology industry that has come to define it. Pittsburgh’s tech industry isn’t isolated to research parks, universities and the suburbs. It is woven throughout our 90 neighborhoods.

! WANT TO DISCOVER MORE?

Scan this code to learn more about Pittsburgh's growing tech community.

Pittsburgh will forever be known as the Steel City. Just as Pittsburgh was at the bleeding edge of tech in the 19th and 20th centuries producing steel, glass and energy, the city is still at it today. But much has changed. It is often referred to as a 40 year, overnight success story.

In fact, the Pittsburgh Technology Council's 2021 State of the Industry Report says the 10-county Pittsburgh region is home to more than 10,000 tech companies across six clusters, including information technology, life sciences, advanced manufacturing, advanced materials, environmental technology and energy technology.

These firms employ 305,615 individuals and account for nearly 26 percent of the area's overall workforce. The $26.5 billion annual payroll of technology and related companies, including the health services subcluster, represents more than 37 percent of the region's total wages.

Tech is not just defining Pittsburgh, it is leading it into the future. Millions of people and travelers have used Duolingo to learn a new language. This company was founded by Luis Von Ahn, inventor of ReCAPTCHA and a Carnegie Mellon University alum/professor. Duolingo just went public and has headquarters in Pittsburgh's East Liberty neighborhood in the East End.

Duolingo is just a few blocks away from Google's offices in Bakery Square, a former Nabisco bakery where cookies were made. Google employs nearly 1,000 people in Pittsburgh and continues to grow.

Slowly, but surely, Pittsburgh is becoming equally known as "Roboburgh." Anyone taking in the restaurants, breweries, shopping, nightlife and coffee in the Strip District and Lawrenceville will quickly encounter some of the autonomous vehicles badged with Aurora, Argo AI or Motional logos. Pay closer attention to the signs over the door fronts and you find companies like IAM Robotics building robots for warehouse spaces or RE2 pioneering robotic arms.

Many Pittsburghers think the tech sector is out of this world. With Astrobotic, it truly is out of this world. Astrobotic will send payloads to the moon in 2022 that will include a diverse suite of scientific instruments, technologies, mementos and other payloads from six different countries, dozens of science teams and hundreds of individuals. Pittsburgh will literally become a space center.

If that's not enough, Astrobotic just spun out the Moonshot Museum to inspire a diverse community to find its place in the future of human space exploration through innovative exhibitions and programs fueled by science, technology, engineering and the arts.

From tech unicorns, to startups, to massive R&D facilities, Pittsburgh's tech industry is as diverse as its 90 neighborhoods where it has woven itself into the city's very fabric. Pittsburgh is shooting for the moon and beyond. Who ever thought that could happen from the world's Steel City? ▶

▶ Jonathan Kersting is Vice President of Communications at the Pittsburgh Technology Council overseeing its publications, radio show, podcasting and digital communications/social media efforts. Kersting has been covering Pittsburgh's technology ecosystem with the Tech Council for 25 years. The Tech Council is a trade association boasting more than 1,000 members with a mission to help tech companies succeed.

WELCOME TO THE Neighborhoods

Pittsburghers are proud of their city, and nowhere is that more evident than in the 90 welcoming neighborhoods. Whether you seek the hip and trendy or the quiet and secluded, you'll appreciate the culture and friendly feel Pittsburgh's neighborhoods offer.

A city defined by its topography, Pittsburgh's neighborhoods developed between the rivers, forests and rolling mountains and hills. Visitors will find it easy to walk, bike, bus or drive between neighborhoods featuring diverse food and cultural offerings, fantastic shopping, spacious parks, cool hangouts and more.

MANY REASONS TO Meet in Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh is open for business! Not just a beautiful city, Pittsburgh also is a prepared city. As you move forward with planning your future events, I want to share with you a few of the reasons why Pittsburgh is the perfect destination for your next meeting or event.

Only in Pittsburgh Excitement

Pittsburgh is a major meetings destination, boasting fantastic and affordable accommodations and an award-winning food scene. But, it's the venues and experiences you can find Only in Pittsburgh that make our city truly stand out. From unique meeting spaces, like The Andy Warhol Museum and the August Wilson African American Cultural Center, to must-see experiences like the Duquesne Incline and the view from inside PNC Park, there's so much to discover in Pittsburgh.

David L. Lawrence Convention Center

The Platinum LEED®-certified David L. Lawrence Convention Center (DLCC) is an exceptional meeting space built with sustainability in mind. Whether it's the 1.5 million feet of meeting space, the column-free exhibit halls, the Rooftop Boulevard – an outdoor event space - the enhanced health and safety practices or the convenient location, the DLCC's advantages will strengthen your next event.

Pittsburgh is at the Forefront of What's Next

The Pittsburgh region's technology and advanced manufacturing industries are on the rise. The region is a hotbed for innovation, and top companies, startups, universities and more are all meeting the world's biggest challenges and building a next-generation economy right here in Pittsburgh.

Convenient Travel

Pittsburgh is conveniently located within 500 miles of nearly half the U.S. population. This makes for an easy commute for your attendees, as the city also is within a 90-minute flight of nearly half of North America's population and within a six-hour car or train ride from 10 states, Washington, D.C., and Canada.

► Andrew Ortale was named VisitPITTSBURGH's Chief Sales Officer in August 2021, bringing with him more than 20 years of domestic and international event experience. Most recently, he served as Vice President, Events & Business Development, for ASIS International (2017-21). His career includes multiple sides of the event industry, and he previously served as the National Sales Director for VisitPITTSBURGH from 2000-03. Andy is thrilled to return to Pittsburgh and is eager to explore the city's growth with his family.

Industry Leading Airport

Pittsburgh International Airport launched a $1.4 billion Terminal Modernization Program in 2021, with the new, 700,000-square-foot terminal the first in the United States to be designed and constructed for a post-pandemic world. Key design features include large outdoor terraces and touchless processes, with consolidated and streamlined operations highlighted throughout the terminal. A commitment to sustainability will be evident throughout construction and operation of the new terminal, with a grand opening planned for 2025.

The MeetPITTSBURGH Team

The MeetPITTSBURGH team can connect you with local ambassadors, thought leaders and industry partners who can provide expert program content and legacy initiatives. From initial inquiries to follow up and everything in between, our team of experts is here to provide the support you need to plan a meeting you and your attendees will never forget.

Justin Ogrosky

People have a perception of old Pittsburgh and not the new Pittsburgh. One of the things we did was make sure we had a dinner across the river with the cityscape in our background, and people were just amazed with how beautiful the skyline is here.

“The (David L. Lawrence Convention Center) is phenomenal. The high ceiling and all of the daylight just make it so welcoming. People are feeling happy, and it was a great experience to be here.”

► Jim McGarry
*President & CEO,
 Education Market Association*

What really stood out to me in planning (our) event was the willingness of everyone we dealt with to make this happen the way we needed it to happen. The MeetPITTSBURGH team was really great to work with. Anything we needed, they were there to make sure it happened. They put us in touch with the right people. The team was great in making sure everything we needed was taken care of.”

► Hunter Clemens
Director of Meetings, American Physical Society

Jody Mader

Jody Mader

Our experience (was) phenomenal. VisitPITTSBURGH, the Convention Center, the technicians, AV – everything was fantastic to work with. As always, VisitPITTSBURGH has been amazing. The entire team has been fantastic. We kept getting compliments from our attendees, and that’s something to be said. They attend a lot of conferences in a lot of cities, and they were just really pleased with everything.”

► Lakisha Miller-Barclay
*Executive Director & CEO,
 American Chemical Society, Rubber Division*

(The NAFA 2021 Institute & Expo) was our first live event since 2019, and the whole city and the Convention Center went out of their way to make sure we all felt safe and that the event went off without a hitch. We were thrilled to get back in-person; it’s really important to us, and we couldn’t have picked a better city to start with.

“Our experience with planning our first event in two years was great. The hotel community, VisitPITTSBURGH and the Convention Center all went above and beyond. Our members and exhibitors all felt welcomed to the city, and it was a great overall experience.”

► Bill Schankel
CEO, NAFA Fleet Management Association

PITTSBURGH INTERNATIONAL Airport

The highly-rated Pittsburgh International Airport is more than just an airport – It's An Experience.

Named "Airport of the Year" by Air Transport World Magazine in 2017, Pittsburgh International Airport is a two-time Travel + Leisure Top-10 Domestic Airport honoree (2018, 2019). Most recently, Fast Company named the airport one of the World's Most Innovative Companies in 2020.

Pittsburgh International features an impressive mix of international brand stores and locally inspired products, giving travelers a complete shopping experience. It's no wonder TripAdvisor ranked the airport a "Travelers' Choice Favorite for Shopping."

Travelers can move about Pittsburgh International with confidence, as the airport is operating under the PIT Safe Travels initiative, which in accordance with guidelines from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), boosts health and safety measures already in place throughout the facility. The initiative also includes enhanced protocols that outline best practices for reducing the spread of germs.

The airport has embraced innovation as part of the initiative, including partnering with a local robotics company to become the first airport in the world to deploy autonomous, robotic floor scrubbers with UV light.

The world-class shopping and dining experience combined with its award-winning Art in the Airport program and growing air service options make Pittsburgh International Airport the premier gateway to Western Pennsylvania.

Nonstop Flights from Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh International Airport offers nonstop flights to a multitude of cities. Whether you're from Pittsburgh and looking to plan your next trip, or you'll be visiting the city for the first time, Pittsburgh International Airport proudly makes traveling quick and convenient, offering nonstop service throughout the United States, Europe, Canada and the Caribbean. For up-to-date information on specific airlines and routes, please visit FlyPittsburgh.com.

Airport services for people with disabilities include reserved parking spaces, a discounted parking rate, TTY telephones for the deaf and hearing impaired, service animal relief areas, a sensory room, a family restroom with an adult changing table and wheelchair or porter service.

Pittsburgh International Airport Updates

Looking ahead, Pittsburgh International Airport will continue to expand and improve with the development of the Terminal Modernization Program, a $1.4 billion effort to transform the airport experience in Pittsburgh.

Ground broke on the new 700,000-square-foot terminal in October 2021, with an anticipated opening date of early 2025. Key design features include large outdoor terraces and touchless processes. Operations including ticketing, baggage handling, security, ground transportation and concessions will be consolidated and streamlined for a post-pandemic world. And, the region's commitment to sustainability will be evident throughout the construction and operation of the new terminal, with an aim to comply with LEED® Silver certification.

Beyond the new terminal, Pittsburgh International Airport reached an incredible milestone when it established its own microgrid based on on-site natural gas wells and solar power. It's the first airport in the world to be completely powered by natural gas and solar energy, increasing resilience and maximizing public safety.

AIRPORT transportation

By Taxi or Rideshare

Pittsburgh International Airport was one of the first airports in the country to allow pickups from ride-sharing companies, like Uber, Lyft and zTRIP. Rides can be ordered via the companies' mobile apps. Riders should proceed to the Landside terminal, Baggage Claim level, and exit Door #4 to meet their driver at the Commercial Arrivals Curb. Here, there is a designated pickup area near the cab stand.

Black car service can be ordered on demand through the zTrip mobile app. For up-to-date information on ground transportation providers, check out FlyPittsburgh.com.

One-way fare between Pittsburgh International Airport and Downtown is about $45. Please note – pricing may fluctuate based on a variety of factors, including time of day.

By Public Transportation

Port Authority Transit 28X Airport Flyer

Best bargain in the 'Burgh! One-way fare between Pittsburgh International Airport and Downtown and Oakland, as well as Robinson Towne Center, is $2.75 (exact change required) or $2.50 if using a ConnectCard, a reusable plastic smart card that makes paying your fares faster; cards may be purchased in Baggage Claim, next to Door #6. Passengers are responsible for handling their bags when getting on and off the vehicle. Tipping the bus driver is permitted.

TRANSPORTATION Tips

Ride Sharing

For those travelers who are dedicated Uber and Lyft users, be assured that both services are available in the Greater Pittsburgh area and are accessible by cellphone apps.

Parking in Downtown Pittsburgh

If parking in the city, look for multi-space parking meters along the streets and in all Pittsburgh Parking Authority parking lots; these meters accept both change and Visa or Mastercard. To use, enter your license plate number at the kiosk and indicate payment of choice. Receipts do not need to be displayed on your car's dashboard. Street meter hours vary, so check the pay kiosks for enforcement hours. Downtown street parking is free on Sundays and after 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Download the free Go Mobile PGH app for an alternative option to pay for parking using your mobile phone. This will save you time and money on parking. There is an option to extend parking time conveniently from your cell phone.

Check real-time parking availability for selected Pittsburgh garages located in the Cultural District, Central Business District and North Shore with ParkPGH, a free service provided by the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust. See which garages have spaces right now, where the closest garage is to your destination and parking rates. Inventory is updated every 30 seconds and delivered to users via mobile web, iPhone app, text messaging, a traditional website and a call-in service.

Biking Options

With more than 60 miles of bike lanes throughout the city – and more on the way – getting around Pittsburgh on two wheels has never been easier! Add to that the 24 miles of riverfront trails, and you have easy access to city neighborhoods. Hop on one of the Healthy Ride bikes, available at 100+ stations strategically placed throughout the city and sanitized regularly using EPA-approved disinfectants. To expedite your ride, register in advance at healthyridepgh.com.

Golden Triangle Bike is a great seasonal service to utilize for Pittsburgh bike rentals, equipment, gear, bike service and tours. Guided and self-guided tour options with awesome bikes and world-class trails promise an experience that you'll never forget. Whether you are taking a loop through the South Side or a multi-day journey along the Great Allegheny Passage to Washington, D.C., Golden Triangle Bike offers tour packages for all levels.

Public Transportation

Port Authority of Allegheny County is the public transit agency for the Greater Pittsburgh area, providing bus, light rail (T) and incline services. Port Authority riders may pay to ride using cash (exact change), ConnectCards, prepaid tickets, passes, transfers or by showing ID for special fare programs, such as senior ID cards. Bus fares are paid as passengers board the bus.

All rides are $2.75 cash (exact change) or $2.50 if using a pre-loaded ConnectCard which can be purchased at the Port Authority's Downtown Service Center on Smithfield Street, as well as most area Giant Eagle locations and other select retailers. When you ride, the cost of each trip will be deducted from the value stored on your card, and you won't have to worry about exact change. For more information on ConnectCards, as well bus routes, please visit portauthority.org.

Taxis Serving Pittsburgh

All major hotels in the Downtown area have taxis and zTrip cars waiting outside their front doors. Taxi companies with Wheelchair Accessible Service include:

- ▶ Air Star Access Paratransit • (412) 381-7230
- ▶ Classy Cab • (412) 322-5080
- ▶ VE Taxi • (412) 481-VETS (8387)
- ▶ zTrip • (412) 777-7777

zTrip is local! Open the zTrip app and select whether you want to ride like a VIP in an upscale, late-model black car or if you prefer to ride more casually in a comfortable zTrip cab. Decide whether you want to be picked up now or later depending on your travel plans. It's easy to reserve a car, and you'll always be riding with a licensed and insured driver.

Make the move TO PITTSBURGH

THE CITY HAS SO MUCH TO OFFER

Pittsburgh is a unique place, with plenty to offer visitors and residents alike. A city built on innovation, Pittsburgh continues to push the envelope with major contributions in technology, education, medicine and beyond. In fact, in 2021, WalletHub named Greater Pittsburgh its sixth-best metro area for STEM professionals.

It's a place for builders, creators, artists, makers, problem-solvers and innovators. Here, you can make a difference – a real impact on points that matter to you. And in Pittsburgh, your neighbors have your back, like the Pittsburgh Tech Council, which is driven to help its members connect with people and organizations they need for success.

Best of all, in Pittsburgh, you can live more. You can enjoy your work and love your life outside of it.

So, when you are ready to consider a move either for work, school, a great place to raise kids, attentive senior services or just a place to call home – move Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to the top of your list!
